

jamest. Setup - .pdf

Thanks to #1 aeseme because without him we would not have this Dashboard, thanks to jamest, catalin68, hotpotato, ragusa & husky77 plus anyone else who has contributed to the attached.

I have had problems working all this out, unfortunately my brain is no longer young and adaptive and it's not my forte, so I thought it may be helpful to others like me who just don't get it (spoon feeding if you like). I don't see why someone should be disadvantaged just because their brain is unable to comprehend it all immediately (I am sure like me they excel at other things) ... so ... here is a downloadable .pdf that has detailed links to all files and appropriate posts & instructions ... hopefully covered it all (If you have any questions please post them and I am sure that someone will answer)

Thanks again to jamest.

The files needed are:

- Post 2,894 EAX JT test.rar (contains all the .set files)
<http://www.forexfactory.com/attachment.php?attachmentid=2056800>
- Post 3,013 EAXMoving Averages - PIN1
<http://www.forexfactory.com/attachment.php?attachmentid=2058597>
<http://www.forexfactory.com/attachment.php?attachmentid=2058596>
- Extract the .zip file and go to Indicators>PINS for DBMASMEAXPIN_BRdash_v004a - this is loaded as - PIN2
<http://www.forexfactory.com/attachment.php?attachmentid=2046470>
- Post 3,441 EAX_APRangesv1.02 - PIN3
<http://www.forexfactory.com/attachment.php?attachmentid=2066911>

Insert all Indicators into the Indicators folder (I put it in a folder Jamest)

Template - Post 1,917 Chart 2 C68.rar - goes in the Template folder

Other useful indicators - (for me anyway - so you can track performance & in case you want to trade manually) - Post 3,361 - .exe goes in the Indicator folder and .tpl in the Template

If you think this is worthwhile and I am sure you will, please those mentioned at the top, they don't ask for anything so a BIG THANKS is probably appreciated.

if you have the same experience as me then maybe you might want to help (show) others less fortunate - show them how it is done or maybe gift some profits to an organisation that help others ... leave it up to you.
